Gregg Levoy, author of Callings:
Finding and Following an Authentic Life will be pulpit guest and workshop facilitator.

- How do we recognize a true "CALLING"?
- Is it a call to "DO" something or to "BE" something?
- Is it at home, at work or regarding a relationship?
 - Is it a true call or a siren song?
 - Should we resist or say "YES"?

Come learn ways to translate callings into action.

Workshop: $30; optional book: $15.

You may register by credit card through the USH office (860 233-9897)

Callings (Random House) is a passionate exploration of the search for authenticity, whether at work or at home, in our relationships or in service. In a style that is poetic, exuberant and keenly insightful, Gregg Levoy breathes contemporary life into the ancient subject of callings, presenting an illuminating and practical inquiry into how we listen and respond to our calls, and translate them into action.

Gregg Levoy is the author of Callings: Finding and Following An Authentic Life----hailed by Booklist as "Ravishing!"----and This Business of Writing (Writer's Digest Books). He has written for the New York Times Magazine, Washington Post, Omni, Psychology Today, American Health, Reader's Digest, New Age Journal, and many others, as well as for corporate, promotional and television projects.
